FIFTEEN CENTS

Plan concerted effort to oppose tax equalizer

A weeklong drive concluded at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 9, to gather information showing that a proposed multiplier of 1.2181 on all Antioch Township real estate valuations is "excessive, inaccurate and unfair."

The information will be presented by business leaders at a Lake County Board of Review hearing in Waukegan at 11 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 10.

Unless the multiplier is reduced, Antioch Township property owners face prospects of a 22 percent increase in 1979 taxes to be paid this year, declared Township Assessor R.G. (Bud) Holtz.

The multiplier is a device used by the county and state to equalize assessments. It is developed through a complicated formula based on property sales.

At a preliminary meeting Dec. 31, designed to organize a formal protest, Antiotch leaders developed a strategy of segregating commercial and industrial property from sales figures on new homes and vacant land.

Representatives of village banking and real state businesses agreed that sales ratios in Antioch are weighed unfairly on the high side because there has been more activity in these categories.

"I don't know if we can even find enough comparable sales in the commercial area to give an accurate picture because there haven't been that many changes," asserted William Brook, president of State Bank of Antioch.

The leaders charted a campaign designed to obtain latest information on downtown business property rentals and appraisals of commercial and industrial property to present to the Board of Review.

"Presenting solid information is the key to getting relief. I don't think the county is working with true figures," Holtz declared.

Aid from the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry was enlisted to obtain rent information.

Increasing real estate valuations in the downtown area places a hardship on property owners. The result is increased taxes, higher rents and ultimately higher costs for business persons.

The final step in the chain, the leaders agreed at the last day of 1979 meeting, is vacant stores.

"I'm worried about vacant buildings on Main St.," the assessor stated.

Holtz stated flatly that he has not recorded

Stabbed 94 Times

Discover dentist 'bubbling' in drainage ditch

Two comrades in dentistry became one on the morning of Jan. 5, and the one may not be practicing dentistry ever again. Antioch Township was the scene for the most brutal murder in recent history, which involved two local residents.

Dr. Richard Kuelto, 27, formerly of 3397 Poplar St. Apt. 2W, Antioch, was pronounced dead at 11:52 a.m. at St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan, after an early morning argument with his office-mate, Dr. Donald F. Branwell, 28, of 24 Drexel Blvd., Antioch, led to his stabbing death.

Branwell has been charged with the murder, and was scheduled to appear before grand jury for bonding at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday morning.

THE TWO PRACTICED dentistry in the same office at the medical building located on N. Main St. in Antioch. They were both 1977 graduates of Northwestern University School of Dentistry.

According to Lake County Sheriff reports, Branwell and Kuelto engaged in an argument outside of Branwell's home shortly after 7 a.m. on Jan. 5. A neighbor of Branwell's told officials that the two walked down to Michigan Blvd. and he didn't see them return.

Officials learned of the incident through a phone call from the brother of the accused murderer who resides in Denver, Colo. According to Lake County Sheriff Tom Brown, the brother phoned Antioch Police officials stating that Branwell had called and told him that he had just murdered Kuelto, and police would find the body "bubbling in a ditch."

KUELTO'S BODY was found in a ditch two blocks south of Branwell's home with 94 stab wounds, which police said were inflicted by a two inch paring knife.

Both Branwell and the murder weapon were found in Branwell's home, according to Sheriff Brown. Also found at Branwell's residence were two bottles of liquid cocaine, which according to Brown, is not highly unusual for a dentist to have in his possession.

Funeral services for Kuelto will be held at VanHenkelen Funeral Home in Palos Heights.

He was proceeded in death by his father and a brother. He is survived by his mother, Ida, of Worth.

Village sees grant snag

AN NEWS At the Jan. 7 Antioch Village Board meeting, the board referred a request for signs in the Oakwood Knolls Subdivision to the public works department. Joe Veith represented the homeowners and said that the need for curve and slow signs is very apparent because of the careless driving in the area. He also noted a guardrail that needed repair.

In other discussion, Mayor Michael J. Haley announced his concern for the securing of year six grant funds. The funds the village wishes to obtain are part of a three year program instigated to better the building to be used as a senior citizen center located on Turner Dr.

The village has obtained funds for this purpose from year four and five community development block grants but has run into a snag in getting this year's monies.

"We started this program with a three year plan in mind," Mayor Haley said. "This year the grants are harder to get because of the change in qualification guidelines for the village," he added.

THE GOVERNMENT HAS made it harder to get funds by making sure the grants will be used to better a degenerating area. Haley stated that he will be meeting with the grant committee in the near future.

The board also voted five to one to enlist in professional services to study the village's water rates so that a more efficient billing system can be devised.

Board members also voted to amend the village employe work week policy to set the work week for hourly police officers from 12:01 a.m. Wednesday, to midnight the following Tuesday.

TRUSTEE MABEL LOU WEBER reported that last year's building in Antioch was down. Although the total revenue from new construction in Antioch was almost $2.5 million, $1 million was due to the State Bank of Antioch's addition.

Trustee Donald Amundson also reported to the board that the meeting with concerned taxpayers over the proposed increase in property assessed valuation, was a success as many residents raised questions on the subject. Haley commented that the village would look into the legalities of lowering the village's levy.

The board also agreed that the possibility of annexing properties on Zelanger Ln. and North Ave. wouldn't be pushed unless the residents there requested the move.

BRUTAL MURDER SCENE— This area, near the intersection of Michigan and Drexel Blvds., near Indian Point, in Antioch was location at which law enforcement authorities found body of Antioch dentist Dr. Richard Kuelto. Dr. Kuelto was allegedly stabbed 94 times by his colleague Dr. Donald F. Branwell who has been charged with the murder.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

If it wasn't enough to have a successful Christmas promotion, the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry Retail Committee is right back at it again planning for upcoming promos. Not only that, but they will meet tonight at six at Awards by Kaydan to discuss the budget for 1980. That's why the Chamber is successful.

Chamber Executive Secretary Dixie Sparks is so excited about the upcoming installation dinner on Jan. 19, that she wants to make sure that all members attend. She terms the evening to be one of unforgettable fun. She urges members to get their dinner choices in, and also reminds us that Bill Brook will be the emcee, Favour will provide the music, and there will be a special entertainment surprise sometime during the evening.

The Lake County Unit of the American Cancer Society proudly announced its earnings from the second annual gift wrap for Cancer held at the Hawthorn Center Shopping Mall in Vernon Hills. According to Mrs. Bill Brook, the society netted over $3,700 from the two week wrapping service held before Christmas. Dennis Johnson of Johnsons Jewelers and the State Bank at Hawthorn were principle sponsors of the event. The volunteers will enjoy a breakfast at McDonalds in Hawthorn Center Jan. 18.

The Antioch Jaycees are anxious to announce the recipients of the Distinguished Service Awards, and I've heard that they just may do that sometime this week. In the mean time, there are still many tickets left for the banquet honoring the winners. Antioch's leading lady Lillian Foreman, and Fred Foreman, currently a candidate for states attorney will be headlining the event.

Tickets can be purchased for $10 a piece at the State Bank of Antioch, Antioch Savings & Loan, First State Bank, Brauhaus, Lyons-Ryan Ford, Village Pub, Antioch Village Hall and the Antioch Township Hall.

50 YEARS AGO: JANUARY 2, 1930

Insistent and continued requests on the part of friends of W.C. Petty bore fruit today when the popular supervising principal of the Antioch grade school admitted to a representative of the Antioch News that he will be a candidate for the office of county superintendent of schools. The idea of placing Principal Petty at the head of county school system is not new but dates back four years, when friends sought to have the young school man make the race against the present incumbent, T.A. Simpson.

Antioch's 79-year-old hostelry, the old Antioch Hotel is to be razed to make room for the proposed new quarter million dollar hotel-theatre building. The financing of the project is going forward rapidly, according to H.J. Vos, committee member and treasurer, who reports that Lovell & Lovell, architects, have plans nearly finished. It is hoped the new building may be ready for opening the coming season.

Playing to capacity house here Tuesday night, the J.B. Rot-nour Players presented another very pleasing production of the spoken drama, "The Only Road," at the Crystal Theatre. The largest crowd of the season attended, enjoying the play and the snappy vaudeville offered between the acts.

Einar Peterson was very pleasantly surprised at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Peterson, Saturday night, the occasion being his birthday anniversary. Games and dancing formed the diversions. Refreshments were served. There were 35 in attendance.

Fred Hamlin has the distinction of having the first 1930 autolicense in Lake Villa.

30 YEARS AGO: JANUARY 5, 1950

Antioch now has a curfew law. Children under the age of 16 will be off the streets between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. The law places the responsibility not only on the child but on the parent with a penalty for willful violation ranging from $5 to $200. The curfew was not meant to deal with children attending meetings or school affairs and going straight home even though after 10 o'clock, but is meant for those who make a practice of loitering on the streets and getting into mischief.

George Borovicka, proprietor of Reeves Walgreen drugstore, obtained permits from the village board to convert the second floor of his business building to office rooms with a sizeable addition on the rear, and to build a frame residence on the east edge of the village.

In 1949 Illinois began the most wide-spread tooth-saving campaign in any state in the nation. By the end of the current school year, some 35,000 applications of sodium fluoride will have been made to the teeth of Illinois children.

The appointment of Edgar Simonsen, as new fire chief to succeed James W. McMillen, now village president, was confirmed Tuesday evening by the village board.

Announcement was made today that the Antioch Township Library Board had accepted a gift from William E. Schroeder of the property known as the E. B. Williams homestead, located adjacent to the Antioch Scout home and also adjoining the property recently deeded to the village for park purposes. The property was originally owned by the family of the late C.K. Anderson, who had long had the dream of a village and civic park and library on the block of land lying north of Williams Street and east of Main.

Three members of the fire department escaped injury when the township tank truck crashed into a concrete culvert and was wrecked following a collision with a passenger automobile.

10 YEARS AGO: JANUARY 8, 1970

Mrs. Edmund Vos, president of the Antioch Township Library, accepted a $5,000 check from Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spiering which will provide the furnishing and equipping of the multiple purpose room of the new library. The Spierings expressed the hope that their gift to the library would lead others to follow suit so that the institution would be well equipped.

St. Peter's will hold the second annual VIP Dinner Dance on March 7.

Several Antioch people are spending their hours helping flood the ice skating area at the Little League field. It will be a great place for ice skating fun.

Sequoits meet Patriots in NWSC cage action

Antioch will be looking to get back on the winning track and keep their title hopes alive in the Northwest Suburban Conference varsity basketball race when the Sequoits travel to Prairie View for a 8 p.m. league clash with Stevenson Friday, Jan. 11.

"We're going from the frying pan into the fire," Roger Andrews said of the upcoming game following his team's 62-58 loss to Lake Zurich on Jan. 4.

"We'll be challenged," he said. "We have to come up with something to control the inside game."

"They and Grant are the teams to beat," he said. "It's a feather in anybody's hat who can beat them."

Kurt Selak led the Sequoits in scoring against Lake Zurich as he had 21 points. Ron Nauman added a dozen as those two were the only Antioch players in double figures.

John Ploss was credited by Andrews with doing a "commendable job" coming off the bench. The Antioch mentor also cited the play of Mike Anderson, the team's "playmaker."

After leading 26-25 at intermission, the Sequoits experienced their seemingly incurable "third quarter blues" which have plagued them their last four games. "We can't seem to be ready," Andrews wonderingly said of his team's play in the opening of the second half. "Teams blow us out."

This time was no exception as the Bears tallied 18 points to 10 for Antioch.

"We had a good second quarter, but it could've been a lot better," he said as Antioch was zero of five from the charity line, three of which were the front ends of one and one's.

"We outrebounded them," Andrews pointed out of Antioch's overall play. "We had a few lapses on defense, especially in the third quarter."

"The kids are getting a little tougher," he optimistically stated, "but not enough to hit the victory column. We're hanging close with the better teams though."

Sequoit wrestlers improve

Antioch's freshmen basketball team knocked Lake Zurich from the unbeaten ranks to gain sole possession of first place in the conference.

The score was 30-35. The young Sequoits had their usual slow start and trailed 23-15 at halftime. Craig Sheedlo hit nine of his game high 16 points to keep Antiotch from being blown out. Chris Becker took over the scoring duties in the second half with 10 points in the last two periods. Becker and Tom Anderson each grabbed 10 rebounds.

Antioch is now 5-0 in the conference and travels to Stevenson Saturday to take on the third place Patriots.

In the B-game Antioch trailed 12-9 after a very poor first half before exploding for 32 second half points. Mike Koss led the charge with 10 points in the fourth quarter.

Jerry Haling and Rick Gossman each added six points and Phil Aschbacher had five. The B-team is now 4-3 overall.

Frosh Cagers capture hold on first place

Antioch High School's Varsity wrestlers saw action in two large tournaments over the holidays and the young Sequoits are improving with experience.

At the 16 team Glenbrook south tournament, Antioch placed seventh as a team and crowned a champion in Dave Unrein at 112 pounds.

Every Sequoit scored for the team as John Gibson 119 placed second, Tad DeRousse 98 placed fourth and Jeff Cannella 138, Chuck Bogaerts 155, and Ted Bessette 167 won consolation championships.

At the Lake County championships held Jan. 4 and 5, at Waukegan West High School, the Sequoits placed fifth only five points out of third place.

The final results were: Waukegan East, 200, Grant, 166, Mundelein, 131½, Highland Park, 128 and Antioch 126½.

Antioch crowned two champions with Dave Unrein taking his second title over the holidays and Jon Gibson returning to championship by winning the 126 pound title.

Ten out of Antioch's twelve wrestlers scored team points to give the Sequoits outstanding team balance. Tad DeRousse placed fifth at 98, Dave Manina sixth at 105, Rob Crowell won a match at 132, Jeff Cannella placed third at 138, George Bessette placed fifth at 145, Chuck Bogaerts won two matches at 155, Ted Bessette placed fourth at 167, and John Domkowski won two matches at 185.

"Overall I think our wrestling was much better in the county than at Glenbrook south. Our wrestlers were more impressed with the tournament and did not individually prepare for each match. At the county, we were ready and gave a good account of ourselves in every match," stated head coach Ted DeRousse. "Our two champions were very impressive with continuous wins in every match. Dave Unrein 112 over powered and dominated each man. His control over his opponents is improving every match. Jon Gibson, 126, Although wrestling up a weight, is very impressive. If you make a mistake against Jon he will put you on your back," DeRousse added.

"Our three freshmen, Tad DeRousse 98, Dave Manina 105, and George Bessette 145 all placed in the county. This speaks well for their progress and the future of this team," DeRousse further added.

Antioch returns to dual meet action Friday night at home against Stevenson. The Sequoits are 7-4 in dual meets and 2-0 in the Northwest Suburban Conference. Saturday, Antioch travels to Wheeling

Shorthanded Sequoits place second in tourney

The Antioch High School sophomore Sequoits left Antioch a little short-handed last Saturday, as they went to Carmel High School with only nine of a possible 13 wrestlers.

In spite of this, they wrestled well enough to get six of these nine into the championship matches and two others wrestling back for third place.

At the end of two rounds of wrestling, only one Antioch wrestler was out of the tournament. At the end of the tournament Antioch had four champions, two second place, one third and one fourth place finishers.

Their place points, plus winning advancement points and a lot of pin points left them only 13 points behind the tournament winners, Grant.

The top three teams out of a total of eight were: Grant 133 points; Antioch 120 points; Warren 101 points. Other schools participating were: Carmel, Lake Zurich, St. Viators, St. Patricks and Mundelein.

Outstanding efforts were put in by Jeff Neize, Bill Carney, Butch Kirkegaard and Rich Schlarbaum who each won three of three matches to become champions. Their weight classes were 90 pounds; 167 pounds; 185 pounds; and heavyweight respectively.

Second place finishers were Pete Kessler, 126 pounds and Cameron Adkins, 145 pounds who each won two of three matches. Kris Vogt also won two of three matches but lost the second match of three to put him into the wrestlebacks for third, which he took by winning his third match.

John Contois took a fourth place to round out a very successful day for the sophomores.

Blood gift will service family blood needs

January is National Blood Donor Month, and St. Peter's Parish in Antioch will have their eighth annual blood drawing from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 26, in the social center.

A continuing supply of fresh blood is needed and parish and community blood drives are the greatest source of this supply.

The gift of life that you give will also be an investment in your family's future blood needs. Your pint of blood will ensure the blood needs of your family for the coming year, including parents, parents-in-law, grandparents and grandparents-in-law, wherever they may reside. Any need for blood that they may have, be it one pint or 100, will be fulfilled.

The Red Cross is working hard to meet the heavy demand that modern surgery and medical treatment places upon the blood program. With major heart surgery an everyday occurrence and organ transplants more frequent, tremendous amounts of blood are supplied daily to hospitals throughout the area.

EMERGENCY situations also add to the great volume of blood used. On the average, one unit of blood is needed each year for every 25 people in this country. Despite all the chemical research in this field, there is still no substitute for human blood. Blood is living tissue for which there is no substitute.

Thanks to a new additive, the life of the red cells in whole blood has been extended to 35 days instead of only 21. At one time, whole blood was used by only one recipient. Now, with the constant progress of medical research, component therapy makes it possible for one donation to help several patients. The Red Cross blood center's laboratory can separate the unit of blood into red cells, platelets, cryoprecipitate for specialized treatment. Remaining plasma is made into important blood medicines, each with its own special healing qualities.

Men and women, 17 years thru 66 years old, can participate as donors. Not everyone can be a donor due to age or medical restrictions, but if each person who is eligible gives one pint, the quota of 200 pints will be far exceeded and everyone in the parish community will be assured of the availability of blood for their needs and those of their families.

A MINIMUM of 250 volunteer donors are needed to assure fulfillment of the quota. This number allows for the possibility of temporary deferrals and no shows. Committee members will be calling former donors. Those who are not contacted and wish to volunteer to donate, call one of the chairladies for an appointment.

Co-chairladies are Betty Hope, 395-2547; Gloria Grealis, 395-1643, and Revella Horton, 395-0525. Babysitters will be provided for young children of donors during the hours of the drawing on Jan. 26 at the social center.

How can you help even though you don't qualify as a donor? Many volunteers are needed to help the program run smoothly. Nurses, LPN's, lab technicians, and paramedics are needed as well as people to serve as escorts, assistants, and babysitters are urgently needed. The more volunteers there are, the more quickly and efficiently the blood drawing will be accomplished. Contact Betty Hope, Gloria Grealis, or Rev Horton to volunteer service.

Oppose tax equalizer

the same escalating sales figures for business and industrial property as Antioch Township has been experiencing in new homes, vacant land and lakefront property.

He said the county uses figures for the later categories and this distorts the overall picture. "Unfortunately, the multiplier is across-the-board. Everyone is affected. That's why the multiplier is so unfair."

Holtz admitted that his sales ratios are lower than the county but this is true because he views the "overall picture."

The assessor was confident that the Board of Review would moderate its proposed multiplier if Antioch presents a strong case of opposition.

Other townships in Lake County are experiencing multipliers of 14 to 15 percent, he reported.

MAYOR MICHAEL J. HALEY announced after a township resident meeting at the Felter Subdivision Clubhouse held on Jan. 3, that the village would look into the possibility of lowering the tax levy. "We need to know the legalities of changing the levy before we can do anything to it," he said.

Piefer fights in desert

Marine Lance Cpl. John M. Piefer, son of Donald L. and Jeanette Piefer of 2408 E. Thornwood, Lindenhurst, participated in "Combined Arms Exercise 1-80" in the California Desert.

He is a member of the 2nd Battalion, 1st Marines, based at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Conducted at the Marine Corps Air/Ground Combat Center, Twentynine Palms, Calif., "Combined Arms 1-80" was designed to emphasize fire support coordination between air, tank, artillery, mortar and anti-tank missile units. His unit was also involved in several days of training involving mechanized operations with tanks and amphibious tractors.

Piefer joined the Marine Corps in December, 1976.

HOPE FOR VICTORY — Antioch High School varsity basketball cheerleaders will be cheering for their battle with Patriots at Prairie View Friday, Jan. 11. Sequoits in hopes of victory when cagers travel to Stevenson for 8 p.m. Northwest Suburban Conference. Sequoits lost 62-58 to Lake Zurich Jan. 4 at Antioch. —

WE'RE WORKING FOR YOU. AND WE NEED A RAISE.

About eight months ago, we asked the Illinois Commerce Commission for an emergency rate increase. Several weeks ago we got a very small portion of it.

Now, we can't blame you if you're not broken up about that. It seems like every time you turn around these days, prices are going up. So it must be nice to see somebody hold the line for a change.

But this isn't the right time.

We're getting hit by inflation the same as you. It's costing us more and more to generate the electricity you use. And the plain truth is, we can't keep up.

Transformers that were $600 five years ago cost us $950 now. Fifty-eight percent more.

The poles that we need to hold our power lines. Fifty-three percent more.

The crossarms on those poles. One hundred and thirty-three percent more.

And that's just for instance. It's the same story with every piece of equipment we need.

If that's not enough, wages have gone up, and just about everything else as well. Even our state and local taxes are sixty-five percent higher than they were back then. Three hundred and thirty-seven million dollars in 1978 alone, the biggest tax bill in the state.

So the money's been going out faster than it's been coming in. Earnings are down. And our stock has sunk to less than half its 1967 value.

If we can't turn that around, if we can't keep attracting investors, if we can't borrow the money we need at reasonable rates, we simply won't be able to keep going.

Not only won't we be able to cover the rising cost of day-to-day operations, we won't even be able to maintain the kind of reliable service you're getting now. Because reliable service takes new plants and equipment to handle the increasing demand for electricity.

But say the impossible actually happened. No one ever bought another appliance or built another home; no new office buildings went up and factories never expanded an inch; northern Illinois quit growing tomorrow. Even then we'd still need new plants and equipment. Virtually everything we own, from wires and poles to our generating stations themselves, is going to wear out. Sooner or later, one by one, they'll have to be replaced.

The trouble is, that's an awfully expensive proposition. More than one billion six hundred million dollars for a single generating station, like the one we're finishing up right now at LaSalle. And what our customers pay for electricity doesn't begin to provide enough money.

The difference has to come from investors. Only investors aren't likely to put up the money without a fair rate of return, which they won't get as long as our rates stay where they are. And whether you realize it or not, where our rates are is cheap compared to most places our size.

Roughly half of what they pay in New York City. Over twenty-five percent less than in Boston or Newark. Even substantially less than in lots of smaller cities close to home, like Terre Haute and Des Moines; and their costs—for wages, land, construction, and much more—are anywhere near what ours are.

There's just one solution. Adequate rate relief. A realistic increase, and soon. Before it's too late.

Since we're all in the same boat, we thought you ought to know.

Carmel girls spread cheer at Christmas

As decorations, Christmas trees, and Christmas carols filled the halls of Carmel High School for Girls, so did the activities which took place within the building.

The Carmel students began their annual Christmas food drive early in December. During the week which followed, each Carmel student brought in canned food goods to be donated to Holy Family Parish in Chicago. The baskets were distributed to senior citizens of Chicago.

Receiving a "stuffed" Christmas stocking is familiar to most, but to some children it is a special event. The student body of Carmel High School for Girls also collected toys to stuff stockings for this year's Red Cross program for the children involved in Head Start.

To help spread the joy of Christmas, 30 students and the Carmelaires, a select singing and dancing group, consisting of 20 seniors whose talents have spread much Christmas joy around Lake County these past weeks, also performed to the residents of Mt. St. Joseph's Home for the mentally retarded in Lake Zurich.

Christmas caroling is a part of the Yuletide season, and it was a part of Carmel's Christmas. A caroling party was sponsored by the Girls' Intramural Assn. and the Campus Life Program. Admission to the party was a contribution of items to be donated to the Emergency Housing Shelter in uptown Chicago. Hopefully, Carmel aided in providing a warm place to sleep and a meal for persons who have no food and shelter during the winter months.

The Campus Life Program also sponsored a Family Advent Service and Christmas Vigil. A candlelighting service was the culmination of the pre-Christmas activities at Carmel. On the last day of school, the entire student body and faculty participated in the meaningful and traditional ceremony.

Farming seminar planned

On Jan. 30, a Hay and Pasture Seminar will be held beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Cooperative Extension Building in Grayslake.

Don Graffis, University of Illinois Forage Specialist, will discuss selection of grasses and legumes, stand establishment and ventilation, fertilization and management for hay and pasture production.

This slide presentation via the University of Illinois Telenet system is a two way telephone unit permitting questions from Lake County with Dr. Graffis in Urbana.

The program is designed to assist forage crop producers large and small in increasing yields of high quality hay and pasture. The program is open to the public.

Pioneers holiday party was one to remember

by BETH RIECK

A very enjoyable dinner and social time was held by the 74 members and guests of the Richmond Pioneers Senior Citizens Club. The Christmas dinner and meeting were held at Orsolini's Restaurant on Tuesday, Dec. 18.

The room and tables were beautifully decorated for the Christmas holiday.

After enjoying the delicious dinner, a short meeting was held. Under the leadership of Jeanette Gardner, a guest, singing of Christmas Carols was enjoyed. It revealed the beautiful voices of some of the members.

Prizes were awarded to those holding lucky numbers.

The members brought non-perishable food for the Emergency cupboard being formed in Richmond. They also brought holiday wrapped small boxes of cookies to be distributed to the rest homes in Genoa City. These were to be given to the residents for their rooms.

The next meeting will be at noon Tuesday, Jan. 15, at the Hasting Memorial Temple in Richmond.

Refunds waiting

Undelivered Federal tax refund checks totaling over $1 million for 2,870 Northern Illinois taxpayers are waiting to be claimed, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Many of these checks remain undelivered because taxpayers have moved and left no forwarding address with the U.S. Postal Service, according to the IRS. Other refund delays are caused by errors or omissions on the tax return, such as illegible names or addresses.

Taxpayers who filed on time and still have not received their 1978 tax refunds should check with the IRS as soon as possible, because refund delays can also be caused by lost or stolen checks. If this is the case, the IRS can put tracers on the missing checks.

Under most circumstances, an undelivered refund check can be reissued to the new address and received with three weeks to four weeks.

The following lists area residents having tax refunds:

Michael R Crane, Lake Villa; Werner B Gebbert, Antioch; Alfred Kloth, Antioch; Gary S Pawlowski, Antioch.

INSURANCE INFORMATION

My son received a ten-speed bicycle for Christmas. While it was parked in the garage, the door was left open and the bike was stolen. He is broken hearted and we can't afford to replace the bike. Will our Homeowner's insurance cover this? If so, how much will it pay?
Yes. The bike theft will be covered under a standard Homeowner's policy. To determine what the coverage will be, check the policy to see what the deductible is on a single bike theft. Also, remember that depreciation will be deducted. Your Homeowner's policy will pay the cost of the bike less the deductible and depreciation which should go far in replacing the bike.
